Investment Objective and Strategy

The fundamental investment objective of First Trust AlphaDEX™ U.S. Health Care Sector Index ETF (the “First Trust ETF”) is to replicate, to the extent possible, the performance of the StrataQuant® Health Care Index (“Index”), net of expenses.

The investment strategy of the First Trust ETF is to invest in and hold the constituent securities of the Index in the same proportion as they are reflected in the Index or securities intended to replicate the performance of such Index. The Index results from applying the AlphaDEX™ methodology to the Russell 1000® Index, a market index representing the large and mid-capitalization segment of the U.S. equity universe, and then selecting the constituent securities for the Index from those qualifying stocks included in the Health Care Sector.

The Manager may use a sampling methodology in selecting investments for the First Trust ETF. As an alternative or in conjunction with investing in and holding constituent securities, the First Trust ETF may also invest in other securities to obtain exposure to the constituent securities of the applicable Index in a manner that is consistent with the investment objective and investment strategy of the First Trust ETF.

In this case, the First Trust ETF may also obtain exposure to the applicable Index by holding securities of a US-listed index ETF, First Trust Health Care AlphaDEX® Fund (NYSE Arca ticker: FXH), of an affiliate of the Manager, which replicates or substantially replicates the applicable Index.

Risk

The risks associated with an investment in the First Trust ETF remain as discussed in the First Trust ETF’s most recent prospectus. There have been no significant changes during the reporting year that affected the overall level of risk associated with the First Trust ETF. The First Trust ETF provides exposure to the Health Care sector of the U.S. equity market in either a non-U.S. currency hedged and U.S. currency hedged manner.

Investment Performance

For the year ended December 31, 2024, FHH returned 9.31% compared to the Russell 1000® Health Care Index total return of 12.92% while FHH.F returned -0.23% compared to the Russell 1000® Health Care Index (USD) total return of 3.47%. Unlike the indices, the First Trust ETF’s returns are net of fees and expenses.

As of December 31, 2024, the Health Care sector accounted for 9.70% of the weight of the Russell 1000® Index. The Russell 1000® Health Care Index underperformed the Russell 1000® Index, which returned 35.80%. The Russell 1000® Health Care Index (USD) underperformed the Russell 1000® Index (USD), which returned 24.51%.

As of December 31, 2024, the portfolio held 77 equity securities. The top ten equity holdings accounted for 25.46% of the total NAV. The AlphaDEX™ stock selection process is a rules-based process and can result in industry weightings that differ from that of the indices.

The First Trust ETF underperformed the indices during the year due to stock selection within the Medical Equipment and Services and Pharmaceuticals and Biotechnology sectors. Stock selection within Health Care Providers, notably an overweight position to Doximity, Inc., mitigated the underperformance.

First Trust AlphaDEX™ U.S. Health Care Sector Index ETF

Management Report of Fund Performance

For the year ended December 31, 2024

The U.S. dollar appreciated 8.96% against the Canadian dollar from December 29, 2023, to December 31, 2024. FHH.F hedges its exposure to the U.S. dollar.

The top five stocks by contribution to return were Natera, Inc., United Therapeutics Corporation, Doximity, Inc., Eli Lilly and Company, and DaVita Inc. The bottom five stocks by contribution to return were QuidelOrtho Corporation, 10x Genomics, Inc., Biogen Inc., Ultragenyx Pharmaceutical Inc., and Humana Inc.

Recent Developments

The Russell 1000® Index returned 24.51%, including dividends, capping a strong year for stocks in 2024. The U.S. dollar appreciated relative to the Canadian dollar, meaning the index gained 35.80% over the same year measured in Canadian dollars. The gains were concentrated in a few mega-cap companies from the Information Technology, Communication Services, and Consumer Discretionary sectors. NVIDIA, in particular, benefitted from the booming demand for its artificial intelligence (AI) chips, which sent its market capitalization to over $3 trillion, joining Apple and Microsoft. As a result of the AI-driven rally, Communication Services and Information Technology were the best-performing sectors during the year. Materials, a cyclical sector that didn't benefit from the AI rally, was the year's worst-performing sector. Health Care stocks also significantly underperformed during the year amid political uncertainty and higher costs. Inflation improved from 3.4% at the end of 2023 to 2.9% at the end of 2024, prompting the U.S. Federal Reserve to cut its target federal funds rate rates during the year. However, inflation progress stalled at the end of the year. Consequently, long-term interest rates rose during the year. For example, the 10-year Treasury yield finished the period at 4.57%, well above 3.88% where it began the year. Overall, the S&P 500® Index finished the year trading at a 24.7 P/E multiple with a 1.27% dividend yield, more expensive than 21.5 and 1.49%, respectively, at the end of 2023. In addition to multiple expansion, earnings growth also contributed to the strong year for stocks.

(1) Management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) for the stated year and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the year.

(2) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the year.

(3) The First Trust ETF's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the First Trust ETF's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the First Trust ETF buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher a First Trust ETF's portfolio turnover rate in a period/year, the greater the trading cost payable by the First Trust ETF in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between high turnover rate and the performance of a First Trust ETF.

Management Fees

The First Trust ETF will pay the Manager a management fee of 0.70% based on the average daily NAV of the First Trust ETF. The management fee, plus applicable taxes including HST, will be accrued daily and paid monthly in arrears. The Manager may, from time to time in its discretion, waive all or a portion of the management fee charged at any given time.
