Investment Objective and Strategy

The fundamental investment objective of First Trust Dorsey Wright U.S. Sector Rotation Index ETF (CAD-Hedged) (the "First Trust ETF") is to replicate, to the extent possible, the performance of Dorsey Wright® U.S. Sector Focus Five Index, (the "Index"), net of expenses.

The investment strategy of the First Trust ETF is to invest in and hold the constituent securities of the Index in the same proportion as they are reflected in the Index or securities intended to replicate the performance of such Index. The First Trust ETF may also hold cash and cash equivalents or other money market instruments to fund current liabilities.

The Index seeks to construct an equal weighted basket of TSX-listed ETFs that provide exposure to a variety of industry sectors in the U.S. equity markets and may provide exposure to U.S. cash equivalents, represented by U.S. treasury-bills ranging from 30 to 91 days in duration included in the NASDAQ U.S. T-Bill Index (the "US Cash Allocation").

The Manager may use a sampling methodology in selecting investments for the First Trust ETF. As an alternative or in conjunction with investing in and holding constituent securities, the First Trust ETF may also invest in other securities to obtain exposure to the constituent securities of the applicable Index in a manner that is consistent with the investment objective and investment strategy of the First Trust ETF.

Risk

The risks associated with an investment in the First Trust ETF remain as discussed in the ETF's most recent prospectus. There have been no significant changes during the period that affected the overall level of risk associated with the First Trust ETF.

In addition, the First Trust ETF declared cash distributions per unit of $0.0160 for record date of December 31, 2018 with payment date of January 8, 2019. The First Trust ETF also made reinvested distribution to Unitholders of record on December 31, 2018 of $0.6074 per unit. This amount was reinvested in the First Trust ETF and not paid in cash to Unitholders.

Investment Performance

The First Trust ETF returned -10.12% for the year ended December 31, 2018. This compares with the S&P 500 Index (CAD-Hedged) (the "benchmark") return of -5.70%. Unlike the benchmark, the First Trust ETF's return is net of fees and expenses.

The First Trust ETF was fully invested at all times during the year in the U.S. equity sector ETFs of FT Portfolios Canada Co. The First Trust ETF tracks an index which applies a relative strength model on a monthly basis. During the year, the First Trust ETF rebalanced five times to align the weights of the fund components with the index.

The technology sector was the largest contributor to the First Trust ETF performance. It was represented by the First Trust AlphaDEX™ U.S. Technology Sector Index ETF which is designed to replicate, to the extent possible, the performance of the StrataQuant® Technology Index, net of expenses. The underlying ETF has returned 10.70% during the year of 2018. The technology sector is the best performing sector year-to-date, resulting from strong earnings growth in the technology sector and strong consumer spending on the technology categories.

Management Report of Fund Performance

For the year ended December 31, 2018

The energy sector was another positive contributor to overall performance. It was represented by the First Trust AlphaDEX™ U.S. Energy Sector Index ETF which is designed to replicate, to the extent possible, the performance of the StrataQuant® Energy Index, net of expenses. The underlying ETF has contributed 0.34% to the overall performance. Strong oil prices benefited the sector.

The industrials sector was the largest detractor during the year. The sector was represented by the First Trust AlphaDEX™ U.S. Industrials Sector Index ETF which is designed to replicate, to the extent possible, the performance of the StrataQuant® Industrials Index, net of expenses. The underlying ETF has returned -8.01% in 2018. The negative performance of the industrials sector is mainly due to the trade war tensions, slowing global industrial production and lower capital spending.

The consumer discretionary sector was another detractor during the year. The sector was represented by the First Trust AlphaDEX™ U.S. Consumer Discretionary Sector Index ETF which is designed to replicate, to the extent possible, the performance of the StrataQuant® Consumer Discretionary Index, net of expenses. The Fed tightening cycles, rising interest rates, and poor trends in housing and auto-related industries had a negative effect on this sector during the year.

The First Trust ETF hedged its U.S. currency exposure, which detracted from absolute performance as the U.S. dollar appreciated relative to the Canadian dollar.

Recent Developments

In January, the portfolio added exposure to the materials sector, and removed it from the health care sector. Then, in June, the portfolio removed exposure to the materials sector, and replaced it with the energy sector. In August, the portfolio shifted away from the financial sector, and added the health care sector. The energy sector was replaced by the financial sector in September. In November, the financial sector was removed while the utilities sector was added. The First Trust ETF remained invested in the consumer discretionary, industrials and technology sectors throughout the period.

(1) Management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) for the stated period, including the First Trust ETF's proportionate share of the MER of any underlying fund in which the First Trust ETF has invested, and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period/year.

(2) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period/year. This includes the First Trust ETF's proportionate share of the commissions of any underlying fund in which the First Trust ETF has invested.

(3) The First Trust ETF's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the First Trust ETF's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the First Trust ETF buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period/year. The higher a First Trust ETF's portfolio turnover rate in a period/year, the greater the trading cost payable by the First Trust ETF in the period/year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period/year. There is not necessarily a relationship between high turnover rate and the performance of a First Trust ETF.
